Introduction

Dreams and Visions of Major Changes

Over the recent several years, there has been a noticeable increase in clear-sighted dreams and visions from a growing number of individuals who have either demonstrated a good precognitive track record or who have reported certain very specific information from their dream states or waking visions.

Note: for an earlier compilation of dreams-visions:

<http://www.pfcn.net/Bulletins/NES%20-%20Dreams%20Visions%20Futures.pdf>

Threads at NES: <http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/board,6.0.html>

And specifically these on EQ's and tsunamis:

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic,105.0.html>

During this past year, these have increased further in frequency, detail, and intensity.

In making a summary composite of the most prevalent in the earthchanges category, I would have to begin with “The Wave” –an oceanic wall of water or series of enormous waves with global effects as it reaches far inland. There are also variations to this which I would call globally limited yet of massive proportion nonetheless. This is not one event, but rather multiple events related to major earthquakes, space energies effects that deform the atmospheric layers, and influences of space-faring objects –both oceanic impacts and influences-at-a-distance.

Also related to “The Wave” is that of a wave of structured Light –both of the higher frequency spiritual states –and that of space-propagated plasma fields that human science can detect. Spiritual energies as well as space-faring “plasma” are often concentrations of consciousness that appear to earth-based science in different forms according to the human definitions of the electromagnetic spectra and mathematically-derived and inferred analyses of human-based sciences.

These visions are, what I and a few others who have “seen” them refer to as, “The Event” that comes as a great flash of Light.

At this point, I wish to interject a short remark that is discussed further in other essays in “Final Call” –that of the process of the cosmic corrections and the release (freeing) of the True Light from its “lostness” and tired “miredness” in density. I wish to remind that despite deliberate and inadvertent participations of Light Beings/Soul Beings in developing and maintaining the “Fallen Realms”, High Absolution is the antidote for those beings that choose the bifurcation path of the Higher Oneness and Creator of All. I will also say that the process of the dissolution of this reality involves a considerate and deliberate interplay between three factors: the vibrational upliftment of the density through the dual “press pot” effect of the corrections energies, the loosening of the density bonding of “3d atomic matter”, and the concurrent rising of what there is of the true Light that has been held “captivated” in density far too long. This is a great source of “higher joys”.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Close second would be large-scale earthquakes that change the topography of entire continents and oceans. Some of these have been very detailed descriptions that focused upon specific areas, yet like “pieces of puzzle”, they comprise a larger scenario with remarkable coherency in terms of geophysical changes.

In addition to these two major themes, there have some remarkably similar and detailed reports from a few different individual’s dream-visions of changes to the angle of the earth’s spin axis, usually as seen by the viewer from space.

As far as human civilization is concerned, there have been a small number of noteworthy “viewings” of nuclear weapons being used. And in the recent last year or two, scenes of major devastation in highly populated areas, largely American, of widespread suffering as survivors of some large scale catastrophe(s) scavenge for food or water. One theme over recent years has been that of buildings falling apart from decay –both literally and as symbols for social-political and other belief structures of human society everywhere.

Intermittently over several years, I have had some images of energies from space irradiating Earth. Most recently this showed in a dramatic scenario, the immediate aftermath of which shocked me enough to jolt me out of the flow of the experience.

Around the start of the most recent Iceland earthquakes and volcanic activity this August, I had flashes of an explosive volcanic eruption beyond any scale imaginable. In other sequences, there were changes occurring in the Earth’s core –both physical and etheric.

Vignettes over the years included glimpses of a planetary-scale object out in space passing close enough to Earth to trigger major changes, initially massive earthquakes which came again this year in great detail as to the effects upon land masses at coastal zones and farther inland, especially that of the Western US.

One individual who has had considerable experience developing their dream-vision abilities reported they have seen repeated oceanic inundations (at times since childhood). Most recently they encountered a wall of water rising up from the ocean that seemed to just rise up without the expected “forward” movement. If these are to be considered as accurate “seeing”, then two logical explanations for this latter unusual scenario would be a sudden change in the earth rotation, of crustal slippages –or/and space energies drawing water up through electrical or gravitational action of a large body passing the Earth. All possible factors could be true and concurrent.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Given the intense interest in hurricane Katrina of 2005, during the peak of the storm’s intensity, I found myself high above observing two distinct groups of forces fighting for control over the hurricane’s path.

When there was intense interest in the development and upgrading of various transportation hub screening systems, I found myself observing the thoughts of those making plans to implement large-scale screening technologies for most transportation hubs in urban areas. What stood out were their concerns over how well certain types of technologies would identify some new type of human-extraterrestrial hybrids. That was interesting.

These days now, I try to filter dreams and visions to focus only on those that have far reaching global effect in the near term of three months –and of course for anything that pertains to my own personal process.

In my inner processing of the nature of “Time” as a cosmic entity and the cosmic corrections processes, I have also found various layers of membranes, such the one that encompasses Earth and its nearby space. This has an effect upon precognition in that it is mostly near-term precognition is likely to be useful. Most human social or political or various accidents are minor events that can be usually seen before they occur by those who have trained themselves adequately for such things. Overall, there is a recycling within these boundaries of variations on familiar patterns. Nothing truly “new” is going on, there has not been for a very very long time.

There are processes underway that are operating in near-real-time as far as human perception is concerned to facilitate larger changes. Human personages, human nations, economies, cyclonic storms, big earthquakes, etc. are of little to no concern as they have no bearing upon these larger changes. None whatsoever. “Humans will do whatever it is that the humans will do.”

Precognition of planetary and solar system-scale events can only indicate the types and nature of the larger changes and advance timing is usually only available within weeks or months of these large events.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Generally, one can summarize there will be a confluence of catastrophic events (as experienced and perceived from human 3d point of view) that will be increasing in number and scale of impact. The interplay of this confluence is such that no one event can ever be said to be causative of another, etc.

To bypass the restrictions of these higher energy “containment membranes” or boundary layers, it is necessary to establish a high enough “uplink” to one’s highest levels of being possible –one’s original individuation from one’s Creator – your own highest spiritual attractor. Then certain larger scale events can be observed as patterns of energy and consciousness, played out in virtual images as part of this “far-seeing”.

Lastly, there is the matter of dreaming of one's own bodily death, etc. More than that, such “dreams” may include internal instructions for those who are on a conscious ascension path to help them pull in their usable energy and to sever various “ties that bind” –energetic, and bio-material. This includes awareness of that fine silvery-golden thread of energy that connects with the Divine spark and its disconnection. It is the central “bungee cord” that keeps a lightbeing attached and contributing to its connection with its primary human form.

End Notes for Consideration:

1. Surreal Landscapes

Many of the increasingly surreal-landscapes reported by some active dreamer-visions may have a closer relationship to the vibrational states slightly below the shared consensus 3d (call it 2.9d) and less of a relationship to the more familiar astral 4d range. This makes sense to me if the dual "press pot" effect is underway -- pressing down from "above", a massive clearing/ filtering/ restructuring process --this pressing down is also concentrating more and more of the dark side entities and thoughtforms into the 3d range and lower 4d levels of astral. Pressing upward from "below" -- a similar process is underway, but it is also raising the overall state of everything. Those whose predominate point of view is of the flat plane with 3d, fixated on the usual headlines and dramas, then they will initially be noticing some surreal dark stuff emerging from what was formerly a mostly “closed basement” level below 3d.

2. Something Imminent and of Enormous Import

There is a growing feeling of something imminent –and of great immensity. If I were to give it an overall characterization, it can feel as if an enormous structure slams into Earthly 3d. The structure may not have an obviously 3d physical form

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

–perhaps it is a form of space energy, solar or farther out –or perhaps it is something of a massive wavefront of Light –a “god-wave” as some may view it. Whatever “it” is, it is immense relative to Earth and with far reaching effects – beyond dramatic physical phenomena. Moreover, it will have have profound effects upon the structures of what constitutes human level of consciousness and basic psycho-social awareness –upon the structure of 3d matter itself.

3. Earthchanges

Most humans who think about such things as earthchanges tend to focus on relatively small scale effects like major earthquakes (9.0+), big volcanic eruptions, big tsunamis from earthquakes or underwater crustal shifting. These are all of major impact within their immediate region. The 2004 earthquakes and tsunami in the Indo-pacific region were catastrophic for those nearby. Far away, there was very little physical effect other than some perturbations of coastal ocean level and a very minute change to the earth’s rotation. Generally those who take a keen interest in tracking “earthchanges”, from precognition or phenomenological indicators, rarely consider things like the earth’s rotation quickly changing, submarine crustal plate structure rapidly shifting propagating enormous kinetic and electrical forces, major shifting of the earth’s crust relative to inner levels of the planet, or the earth’s overall spin axis changing. Most do not consider the enormous kinetic effects that major changes to the solar magnetic field may have upon various internal planetary bodies and inner structures, nor is there consideration of the possibility of interplanetary or galactic-scale plasma ending human civilization or perhaps all life forms on this planet. Rarely does anyone consider or visualize a confluence of events whereby there is no cause and effect and whereby “post event” analysis will never occur.

4. “Dream interpretation”

As part of the larger “ascension” and creation-wide transformational process, all vibrational levels are involved. From the densest level below that which we would refer to as earthly human “3d” to the highest levels reaching to and including Creator of All.

The cosmic scale corrections process has discreet portions that are tailored to specific regions and purposes and vibrational states. The human-Earth environment is one of those discrete range levels.

The human level is one of several energy bodies that usually constitute the local Soul being or higher level being. There are those bodies or aspects that are below human and tend to be more like concrete overshoes. This can be dealt with through simple spiritual energy practices to clear them, or to remove them if that becomes necessary. This “basement level” has also been referred to as the “hell realms”. The astral is a vibratory range level immediately above and is the most accessible non-physical state to the human 3d level. The problem is that what remains of the astral region is populated by dark force entities of various types and disconnected fragments of spiritual beings, both humanly embodied and not. Thus high focus and high intention is needed to penetrate these regions.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

There is also a type of “rescue” effort underway in the lower realms and it may appear to inner-seeing as scenes from the aftermath of natural disaster or sci-fi movie scene. These images are usually the closest analogs to have meaning to the ordinary human 3d awareness.

Dreams of invaders, or other attacks by human or non-human like creatures, etc. are usually related to the intensified parasitic energy feeding and mind-manipulations by various dark forces entities. Where it is obviously personal, lower level human consciousness from others with whom you may “have issues” can also be similarly invasive.

Dreams of being captured, chained, trapped in a structure, etc., more often relate not to psychological issues, but rather relate to the actual light structures –above and below –that you as an aspect of a spiritual being are held down by.

Concerning the two major temporal markers, I only know of a handful of future-viewers who have noted similar comments about the periods of 2017-2019 and 2035-2036. To the best of my knowledge, each arrived at their observations through their own process.

Once by the Pacific

The shattered water made a misty din.
Great waves looked over others coming in,
And thought of doing something to the shore
That water never did to land before.
The clouds were low and hairy in the skies,
Like locks blown forward in the gleam of eyes.
You could not tell, and yet it looked as if
The shore was lucky in being backed by cliff,
The cliff in being backed by continent;
It looked as if a night of dark intent
Was coming, and not only a night, an Age.
Someone had better be prepared for rage.
There would be more than ocean-water broken
Before God's last "Put out the light..." was spoken.

Dreams & Visions

October 2014

Here are a few main points to help introduce things that I took note of over the years from my own sleeping and waking dreams and visions.

- Changes to the earthly environment: Earthquakes, volcanism, flooding, seafloor and coastal related oceanic events, locales include Hawaii, United Kingdom, North America coast, eastern USA, Northeast Canada, Japan region, crustal rotational shifting and spin axis displacement, core of earth, influences of passing large planetary bodies, impacts of large space objects, etc.
- Changes to human society and civilization as a whole
- Nuclear weapons use
- Major disease and vaccine
- Major temporal markers 2017-2019 and 2035-2036
- Various levels of cosmic lower scale “membranes” & implications relating to “Time” and limits to precognitive dreams
- Recent observations of layers of higher consciousness percolating upwards from the human levels and spatially arrayed near earth -- here is your "positivism" but it is not what some may desire from their human level point of view.
- Higher levels of involvement
- Cosmic and galactic scale changes
- Earth's spatial orbital changes and disturbances to the this planetary-solar system
- Dark forces
- The All
- Creator of All and changes to The All and Creator of All
- Beyond Creator of All and The All and the Greater Void

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Preface

Since early childhood, I have had “inner awareness” of major earth-changes, inter-dimensional fields, ET-alien types, and various cosmic scale perspectives.

The following summary spans a period of years and various points-of-view, mostly over the most recent decade. Some were as if at “ground level” –as if present and embodied at the scene, some were high above as if at an airplane altitude, some were out in space looking at Earth or elsewhere, and other times simply visuals and general content as if viewed remotely while in sleeping dreamtime as well as “normal” waking time.

There were also “overlays” to the “normal” environment while walking or driving.

The precognitive information is now filtered to only pertain the most important, large scale events. Otherwise, I would be getting image of all manner of things that had a more localized effect. One time I was deliberately attempting to remote view the CA Bay area or Sonoma while I lived in Alaska. I was immediately drawn in on to the streets of San Francisco and felt the ground move while bricks were falling from buildings and gas lines and water line exploding around me. Even details of the street paving was plainly visible. Three days later there was the earthquake of 1989. And then I saw some news stories depicting the street scenes as I saw them as if I was there on the ground. This occurred again for me a few days prior to a large India quake in which I saw so many people trapped and injured in some large older urban buildings.

(January 1st tends to be a day of significant dream visions for me over many years, as is the mid-April period surrounding my birthdate.)

Changes to the earthly environment:

Earthquakes, volcanism, flooding, seafloor and coastal related oceanic events, locales include Hawaii, United Kingdom, North America Coast, limited eastern USA, Northeast North America, Japan region, crustal rotational shifting and spin axis displacement, core of earth, influences of passing large planetary bodies, impacts of large space objects, etc.

Details of ocean water covering most of San Diego, CA including new ocean buoys. Also with this was the experience of those who had made it to the high mountains above where there were still lakes/reservoirs. There were military-like types – Guard or Army? and they were helping with the temporary refugee encampments at the high areas. There was some discussion of an earthquake warning system alerting to more major quaking soon. Some were deciding whether to try to press on toward Arizona or stay in the high lakes/mountain area.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Images (repeatedly) of the approximate height of the ocean waves inundating the Tomales Bay (California) area and specifics of Pt Reyes town “seeing” the water overtake the town. Seeing the depth of water around the Mendocino/Yorkville CA area. Areas of CA that would drop from present elevations, etc. thus explaining some large discrepancies in ocean water levels in the valleys, etc.

Future views of interim communities of humans “living on the edge” of the sea in former California, Tomales Bay area having built a boardwalk connecting a small (newly built) village of individuals from the salvaged lumber of the former Inverness/Pt Reyes towns, many of the residents of this future “village on the edge” were primarily focused on their ascension. There were also external threats to anticipate. Aerial views of the resultant sinking, breakup of California.

In one future forward viewing, there were humans on boats in what formerly were city streets, now flooded to a few building stories or more. The water was clear enough (and seemed a bit cold) and the humans were watching whales swimming through the streets as the whales wanted to see firsthand how the humans had been living on land. This seemed to be northeastern coastal to me.

Earth’s Core:

The core is seen to be changing and splitting – recently it looks like cellular mitosis does under a microscope. This is in direct response to the larger cosmic corrections processes that have been underway and more recently accelerated. It corresponds to a bifurcation of realities underway, a split between a higher vibrational range of what overlaid Earth in recent years and the lower density Earth that is subject to catastrophic earth changes and all the rest. It is interesting that this is how the birth of a new creation appeared (only on a vast scale to a human-Earth perspective).

Old Earth – New Earth separation:

About 15 years ago, I “saw” there were two earths – one of a finer vibrational state, another, the grosser density of the “ordinary” earth. These would eventually separate out. That bifurcation process has now been underway to my awareness for a few years now. The earth core visions seemed to be related somehow.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Pole Axis – Crustal Slip Shifts:

I am out in space observing the Earth. I see the earth's rotational axis change so that it appears as though it is somewhere in the NW region of Russia. Hawaii moves to a colder environment.

In 2011, while on the island of Maui in Hawaii, I am in a dream future state and my wife and I are together in this space and are amazed at all the snow that has covered much of Maui nearly down to the main valley saddle area.

More than one occasion, I saw the major crustal plates under the seas move up and down violently and rotate about. This was a “stand alone” type of vision. But again, when viewed in the context of most of these others, it is like a piece of a larger puzzle.

In 2009 I “saw” details of the dynamic relationship between the crustal layer and the inner earth layers. At first the changes would begin gently, then more and more as the crustal layer begins to move more freely relative to inner levels of the planet.

“The Wave” & Oceanic changes:

The most prevalent of the earth change effects has been ocean inundation of land. Depending on location, the waves are a hundred to several hundred feet in height. There is no warning in time for these. These span many years and multiple situations. One was very detailed waking-driving vision of a wave 60ft to 70ft inundating Pt Reyes area of California. Another was the ocean water level at someone's house in the coastal Mendocino area. One time I found myself in a city and a 200ft wave was incoming. I look around and see the street sign for “Sutro Place” (San Francisco).

One detailed sequence that I experienced in 2008 was when I found myself in England in an open square or other such paved area and my focus was on a woman in her little car. She was preparing to ascend her body in anticipation of a massive tsunami that everyone knew was imminent. Her process (and my attention) was abruptly interrupted by a well-meaning policewoman rapping on the window glass of her car to offer her a life vest (!).

April 2009 I had a sudden flash vision of the roads connecting to NYC around the Hudson river were heavily flooded. Not from rain it seemed, rather it was something else. Oceanic inundation? Land mass subsidence? Both? There seemed some temporal relationship with eruptions of the western region volcanoes. This was unclear.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Here in Hawaii, these ocean wave scenarios play out similarly and have appeared to me as many hundreds of feet in height. These massive wave images have appeared with increasing regularity through this year.

After a hiatus to these vignettes, it came again this second week of October. I am standing on a flat and gently sloping beach, cliff above, and I see the ocean recede far out. The incoming wave was not as immense as some have been, and so I stood there on the beach watching the wave and observing calmly how high it reaches the cliff/bluffs behind me. The wave appeared to be more than 100ft and certainly less than 200ft. California? Hawaii? Where? I do not know. Possibly late October or during November this year. Not sure. Related factors: space objects plowing into the Pacific, massive geophysical changes to Japan, extensive sea floor deformations.

NOTE: There is another type of “wave” I am aware of. It is of finer light energy structure than gross masses of ocean water. It is part of the cosmic changes/correction process. And it looks like a wave in some ways, but of “liquid light”. But it is just as imposing a presence as if it were a wall of water until one recognizes what it is. An essay titled “The Wave” in the main body of “Final Call” discusses this further.

Radiation Problems and Nuclear Weapons:

One was a remote viewing of military personnel working fast to move traditional nuclear bombs to some destination. A plane it seemed. These were on simple metal trolleys – just like the ones people have seen in the news. The military seemed to be USA or European. Most likely American since they seemed to think and talk in English.

Some years later I was “etherically” visiting a group of people in a conference room several stories up overlooking a medium sized city (there seemed to not be any iconic skyscrapers visible). One of the participants got up and drew aside the ceiling to floor sheer style curtains to see the cityscape before them. Then one, two, eventually four or five nuclear explosions were seen and everyone in the room panicked and ran for the exit stairs. Everyone knew already that they would not escape the initial blast wave –and they did not. Fast exit from the scene for me as well. Question in mind immediately was information about the explosions. I immediately was informed they were about 5-kiloton each. Location and timing unknown.

A year ago or so, we were staying on Maui overlooking the ocean and island of Molokai, etc. As I was walking, from my office I “saw” a nuclear type of flash explosion. I immediately told my wife who was there that if it ever happened like that where to lie down in the building hallway and not to look outside.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

A couple of years later, I found that a dream-visioner living on Oahu had “seen” a nuclear attack upon Oahu, with much destruction. He had reported this years prior to my waking “flash” vision.

One person who I am close to had the experience several years ago of interfering with the use of a nuclear weapon that could well have been a very real 3-d “incident” in the Middle East region. Did this “really” happen? Since no bomb went off, perhaps they were successful. There is no way to know but but it was an interesting sequence of events that “rang true” in every respect.

Sometime around late 2010/early 2011, before the March 2011 Japanese EQ and nuclear plant complex disasters, I had found myself hovering high above a group of elderly Japanese dressed in black with black umbrellas attending to funerals. One of the elders looked up in my direction with great sorrow and tears and I saw from his perspective a black-iridescent rain falling –such as what occurs from certain nuclear fallout. It is my impression that this concerned something far larger than the current situation with the nuclear plants in Japan. Perhaps involving weapons use, or perhaps a larger scale event related to reactors in Japan or elsewhere.

Major disease and vaccine problem:

Around 2009, I found myself visiting a city – it seemed to be in the PNW – Portland? Seattle? I do not know for sure. Seattle felt about right, though. The city was in ruins from what I surmised had been a series of major earthquakes, etc. People were scavenging for food, water, etc. Looked like a Hollywood apocalyptic disaster movie set. In one sequence I had an as if on-the-ground remote viewing experience with a group of people who were dressed as if homeless and without possessions rummaging through the ruins of what had been a public water treatment plant looking for bottles of drinkable water. Most of the city population was gone, by the way.

At the end of the experience, my attention was drawn to written and otherwise conveyed warnings about a vaccine that was somehow accidentally (or carelessly?) formulated incorrectly and had actually been a major contributor to mass death, however it may have occurred. Later I wondered if the whole global flu pandemic and vaccine scare was just a test run for something more in the future.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

It was during the period of 2008-2009 that I had a series of dreams and visions concerning details of a pole shift and crustal slippages, it seemed that the mass death from the vaccine problems would be a temporal marker indicating the beginning of some of these enormous geophysical changes (this was in Sept. 2009).

“Loss of a Continent” – a Diaspora Eastward:

One day in September of 2012, I was startled awake to the image of countless humans rushing eastward – as I see them from high up, they look like a massive herd. The words were “heard” “the loss of a continent” and “trillions of dollars” of economic “losses”. This was from some major earth change event, but I did not see what it was. My thoughts went first to the New Madrid fault system, then to something in the western states of the US.

A Diaspora Northward:

While living in Western Montana, I had a series of future flashes of large numbers of people mostly on foot making their way north from Idaho into the southwest area of Montana and perhaps the Canada border. Those living off the main connecting road (Route 93) would be hard pressed to feed and house the immigrants coming on foot. There were also military roadblocks being prepared to close off these N-S routes to Montana. Armed conflict developed at times as those with guns sought to take from residents who had food and shelter, etc. What the triggering event was, I did not know at the time. It seemed to involve earth changes. Later, in waking overlays, there were images of government roadblocks along the main road.

Early 2010, I experienced another sequence of north-bound diaspora into Canada to escape the effects of some major earthchanges and other catastrophes. Canadian interests had prepared small cities of pre-fabricated structures to house all the refugees. But the problems of so many fleeing the USA borders, carrying with them drugs, guns, and “bad habits” became overwhelming to the Canadians as a situation of anarchy grew and the border was highly restricted out of necessity.

Yellowstone and Western USA Volcanoes:

While living in Montana, I had an unusual experience of seeing enormous cracks in the deeper crust of the earth and many spreading fissures with the glowing molten material moving upwards and outwards. (Jan 1 2009) This pertained to the connections between the Yellowstone magma sources and the Cascade mountain range. In 2008, I was seeing waking overlays of large landslides down the Bitterroot Mtn slopes toward the Bitterroot Valley area and water levels 100 to 200 ft or so above the valley floor.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

This might have related to the northward diaspora of refugees. But at the time there was no obvious connection in my awareness between these two events. However now that I have summarized much of this, perhaps these were bits and pieces of local details that had some particular interest to me at the time and that were all part of the larger pattern of ongoing earthchanges.

In another unusual sequence, a specific long-dormant volcanic structure in the southern/south central region of Alaska was also viewed by me as erupting.

Other Volcanic Events

Recently we experienced a moderate quake nearly under the house we were in at the North end of the Big Island of Hawaii. It was the largest of three quakes in recent weeks which we felt and it occurred the day of arrival of a hurricane. This was a very strong vertical jolt early morning during the end of a dreamtime sleep cycle. “Looking” below us, I had the impression of magma moving and pushing upward. It is my sense that the Mauna Loa and Hualuai volcanoes will erupt soon. The USGS has also heightened their monitoring.

On August 25 I had a very graphic inner visual of an enormous volcanic-like explosion that obliterated all the landscape to my point of view. Light and dark grey clouds billowing far up and wide. Far larger than the initial eruptions in Iceland. After seeing photos of the eruption of Ontake in Japan roughly a month later, I wonder if that was what I was seeing? As if an immediate answer to this internal question, I suspect that there is an eruption of far greater scope that will be occurring. Where and when, I do not know yet. So if it is an example of a precognitive dream that lacked time and place information, only the general applies. The ongoing eruption in Iceland is one of the largest there in centuries.

I mention all this as likely to be larger in scope because I tend to “filter” for only those events in the coming three months that have the most global impact.

Montana and Western USA flooded:

While driving to Missoula and walking near where we lived, I had repeated overlays of water one to two hundred feet deep or more in the Bitterroot valley. This was not a flash back to the end of the recent ice age and the “Lake Missoula”

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

and the flooding of much of the NW inland region. These had more to do with the rising and lowering of land masses and the inundations of much of N Amer (mostly USA) by the ocean.

Major temporal markers 2017-2019 and 2035-2036:

The most important was a future remote viewing-visitation. Locale seemed to be somewhere in the NE region of N America in what is now Canada. I was being given a tour of an unusually walled village. Not too many people there. The walls were made up of buildings joined together with metal or masonry walls. The walls were covered in detailed murals showing the destruction of human civilization. I was also shown what my tour guide said were the “canadian drains” to allow the water to run off. This was due to the ongoing sloshing of the planet’s oceans from a massive set of disturbances. The waves had calmed down substantially from what had occurred originally, but over what seemed like hundreds of miles of land, the water still came in and went out like a gargantuan tidal flow at a low lying beach front. At the end of my time there, I was shown a calendar like an ordinary printed calendar and the year was 2036. I was also told they were among the last ones on earth. There were many factors that caused the oceans to cover land. One of the largest factors was the changing of the earth’s crustal mass relative to the inner planetary layers. This was also closely connected with the change to the earth’s rotational axis.

The 2017-2019 period has come up repeatedly in recent year or two for me. Those humans living in what remained of human civilization would be living under the rule of a techno-fascistic state. Those who were not in the designated zones, focused around functioning urbanized areas, would be in the rural outlying areas. Some would serve to keep the cities supplied, the others were essentially non-citizens living off the land however they could. The environment was not very conducive to rural “off-grid living” and was a hard life for most. “Non-citizens” would not have an easy time of getting food or supplies in the cities. This was most likely due to the new ways of tagging people as recognized citizens. Those who were not, need to rely upon black market type transactions and intermediaries to get things they could not obtain from their more rural situations. The outbreak of mass death from disease and a vaccine made wrong was a temporal marker for an increase in major earth changes.

(Note: 2036 is also the year in which a major asteroid is projected to have a dangerously close proximity to Earth. 2029 is the next major point for its passing from which new measurements could be taken (assuming that is even possible at that time).

Cosmic and Planetary Scale Barrier Membranes:

I am moving far out beyond galaxies of this universe, beyond this universe and see various levels of cosmic-scale “membranes”. I am also getting information concerning “Time” and limits to precognitive dream-visions at the 3d Earth level. These membranes were deliberately emplaced to control the expansion of Dark forces and to facilitate the cosmic correction process. These I have discussed in various essays. One of the effects upon future viewing of ordinary earthly matters is that only short term changes can be seen as most everything continues to recycle or recirculate –variations upon the old themes. Humans are still recent products of the “Dark Ages” and the recent Medieval period. “Time” as humans count it, is relevant only in the localized zones enclosed by these membranes. Membranes enclose this Earth planetary system and a bit farther out. Other membranes or energy fields encapsulate this galaxy, and farther out there are multiple fields that encapsulate the entirety of “fallen” creation.

Higher Consciousness Rising Above:

In recent weeks, my attention was drawn to layers of higher consciousness percolating upwards from the human levels and spatially arrayed near earth. This is the focus of an essay in the main body of “Final Call” with an accompanying diagram (see “State of the Cosmic ‘Corrections Energies’”). The layer nearest to Earth is still human-earth oriented and influenced by the human experience and its beliefs. But it is a level of nascent spiritual consciousness that is not as mired in the lower density of 3d as the mundane human self is. Another more rarified layer somewhat farther out represents those self-selected collecting and coalescing of groups of a more spiritualized consciousness that have largely ascended from their human 3d levels. Some are still connected through human form, some are not. It may seem like good news, but that is a matter of perspective. As I view this from a higher plane, it is an excellent development. For the human level that has no genuine spiritual awareness, it is practically meaningless as they go through the motions of their daily human existence.

In a separate set of sequences there was an etheric version of a well-known geographic region in which so many who departed (or were about to) from their human existence had come for refuge from dark forces. From there, they were able to leave the downward pull of the ordinary earth vibrational planes.

Cosmic and Galactic scale Influences:

Earth's spatial orbital changes and disturbances occur to this planetary-solar system. Earth –either that of gross 3d density or a more vibrationally refined version of Earth is seen to be leaving this planetary-solar system. Interestingly, these visions occurred before I had read recent space science reports that confirmed many planets were “out there” which were not captive to a solar-planetary system.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

A nearly invisible planetary-scale body passes near enough to Earth to trigger major earthchanges. This space object is much larger than earth it seems. It is an invisible dull red, barely detectable in low infrared. This object has been remotely viewed by me (and a few others) over recent years. Descriptions are all very similar in terms of its near invisibility within the ordinary range of visible and near-visible optical spectrum. In a January 1st 2013 sequence involving this object, I “see” the edges of N America fracturing and falling away to the ocean.

Another sequence a few years earlier included multiple oblique hits into the ocean (Pacific it seemed) by a few large space objects. They plowed a deep furrow in the water hundreds of miles long that sent huge waves across the ocean.

More recently I “saw” an intense “flash” of light –most likely incoming from space. The aftermath was intensely shocking and jolted me out of the experience briefly. Simply put, there were countless human forms in a kneeling position completely burned and charred from this event. This somehow may relate to the dreams and vision of “The Wave” –not the oceanic type, but the waves of Light growing in intensity as there is a close connection between higher vibrational states of the Light and that of the lower states referred to as plasma.

In 2008 sometime after I saw the earth’s rotational axis tilt 20 to 30 degrees from its present angle, I experienced another sequence of events from a vantage point farther out in space than the time earlier when I “saw” a change in the Earth’s tilt angle. This new sequence was the Earth leaving its orbital relationship in this solar system, heading outwards no longer captive to this system. In 2009 a friend and colleague had a similar vision of the earth (or its energy body) leaving this system on its own. Link to a short write-up on both of these: <http://www.pfcn.net/Bulletins/GA%20News-Dec2009-NewEarth.pdf>.

Others themes (not discussed here) include:

- The Dark forces
- “The All” and Creator of All
- New Creation
- New Earth
- Beyond Creator of All and The All and the Greater Void
- The greater changes in their greater context.

Postscript:

Since I am writing this from the Big Island of Hawaii and have myself “seen” various scenarios involving the huge tsunamis affecting the islands, Mauna Loa and Hualalai a powerful flash from some sort of nuclear or directed energy weapon here, the invasion of the western region of the USA by Chinese following some catastrophic changes, I thought it would be of interest to include the following that was saved from around 2007-2008. I do not know the actually date of this person’s dream-vision, only that he says he had three tsunami visions specifically involving Oahu.) Other dreams/visions are recorded at the NES forum pages from others. <http://www.newearthsummit.org/forum/>

Destruction in Hawaii

“The four visions I had are as follows:

Tidal waves eighty to ninety feet in height, going through the high rise buildings in the city of Honolulu, HI., coming from the south of our island of Oahu causing billions of dollars in losses and loss of lives.

Eruption of Mauna Loa volcano on the big island of Hawaii. Lava flows causing extensive damages in both south and north Kona districts. Several hotels and commercial buildings, newer residential subdivisions will incur damages.

A few years from now, our country will not only be involved in an expanded war in the Middle East, but also with China and Russia. Their military will attack the US mainland through Alaska.

Our island of Oahu will be one of the first targets to be completely destroyed by nuclear warheads. When looking from above the chain of the Hawaiian Islands, I saw the islands of Kauai, Maui and Hawaii, but not the island of Oahu. Upon coming down closer, my spirit saw the outline of the island of Oahu under the surface of the Pacific Ocean.”

Preparations for Global War?

October 16, 2014

Note: My primary filter in dream-vision time is for truly large scale or major events of global significance. This is to minimize my attention becoming distracted by small scale events.

This morning October (waking time flash dream-vision, remote read, etc.) the primary representative(s) of Chinese-based interests for the head table of global dominance and the Russian-based interests for the head table of global dominance were working out between themselves how to coordinate "taking out" the USA-based interests for the head table of global dominance. The intention towards this was not a problem, as that was already agreed upon, the problem was mutual assurances and insurance that each side would live up to their own part of the agreements and not encroach upon the other's interests. Double checked this. Got it fairly clear and direct, so it seemed.

I would add that these “interests” may not necessarily be the public personae that the public world would identify with each of these countries. (This is not much different that in USA where the president really has very little authority beyond the directives given him by those who have a momentarily dominant edge over the public side of governmental affairs.)

Short background: Several years ago while my wife and I were looking for relocate in the northern California coastal region, I was seeing overlays of probable or very possible futures for the areas we were looking at -- often while driving. Most of these were about geophysical changes. But one day I "see" (waking time vision overlay) Chinese high ranking military officials scouting out their own little turf in the general area around Mendocino. One of the reasons they were present was in response to some geophysical events. These high ranking officials were selecting their own "villas" --not for purchase -- rather it seemed that these were "available" for them to choose from. (The area is somewhat away from the coastal edge, of a higher elevation, and a place where some of the mid-level USA officialdom elite have their own private retreats.)

Follow-up Commentary to “Preparations for Global War”

October 17, 2014

Germane to ideas of effecting some “positive change”, in my estimation, there are profound and subtle questions to give much consideration to before presuming

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

what is right or wrong, good or bad, etc. as these are all expressions based upon a paradigm of conflictual-duality that is itself manifestation of a greater “error”.

To my varied perspectives, war and peace are “sides of the same coin”, that “coin” being the state of human earthly existence –physically, socially, politically, etc.

For those on a path of higher states of spiritual consciousness, sooner or later one is no longer limited to these human-identified-human parameters of existence that were imposed upon this “reality of error” and accordingly, one no longer identifies with “all things human”.

In an instant, dichotomies such as “anti-war”, “pro-peace”, etc. can become artifices and artifacts of the paradigm of conflict-duality consciousness –and as all concerns and questions of human civilization recede to the background, the deeper revelation of the nature of human-earth existence comes to the forefront. This is truly apocalyptic, a term which initially referred to revelation of true knowledge of spiritual gnosis.

During the 20th century, various accomplished spiritual teachers and “mystics” thought they were doing great service by supporting the Allies over the Axis. Each worked at whatever planes or vibrational levels were available to them –from ordinary 3d level of human social movements and national interests –to working “quietly” with world leaders –or by directly taking on the primary dark lords and their subordinate entities that were most keen on fomenting global war for their multiple agendas (which I do not need to discuss here at this time).

Most never questioned whether the higher planes of consciousness could be in error.

In some instances, accomplished teachers/mystics based their intentions and actions upon simplistic perspectives that indicated the Dark lords seemed to be working more through Axis tendencies and less through the tendencies centered around the Allies. This is a faintly higher plane counterpart to lower human level naïve notions of “whomever shoots first is the aggressor” (and therefore must be “wrong”).

The paradigm of duality-conflict is like a monstrous pinball game in which deliberately limited parameters for choosing are imposed along with other “game rules” –until one steps out of the game entirely and sees reality from various perspectives of higher planes of consciousness.

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Despite their access to leading humans and their own human experience and investigations, these teachers/mystics were also naïve about human affairs. This is also evident from a critical examination of the “legacy” of various “ascended masters” promoted through Theosophy and related tendencies.

As a historical note, during WW1 many refused to fight due to various combinations of social-class consciousness, pacifist principles, and preferred isolationism from what was mostly regarded as a “European conflict”. Learning from this while preparing for WW2, the powers-that-be developed a range of social-control memes to manipulate a majority into willingly fighting in their wars.

All those people who volunteered to fight against the Axis were led to believe they were at the least stopping a greater social "evil" than their own native version of exploitative suffering. They were tricked into volunteering for a war in which the very interests who they were deluded into believing they were fighting (and eventually prevailing over) were the very interests that eventually prevailed.

And of course the similar things can be said for those who were manipulated into fighting on the side of Axis.

Both sides used social control memes that were variations of “national glory”, “defending homelands”, defending/promoting a "better way of life", “rescuing” those countries that were invaded, etc. The dominant historical record projects a set of falsehoods that the “good guys won” and the “bad guys lost” that a century of warfare set the stage for their version of a “global prosperity”.

Of course the outcome was perversely very different and the global interests supposedly defeated during the 20th century wars are the very interests that prevailed and redistributed their own global spheres of influence. Thus it can be seen that the “willing sacrifice” by those humans in fighting the global wars was based upon falsehoods, reinforced by implanted false memories.

Based upon their experience curve from more than a century of wars, the powers-that-be succeeded in developing an overt state of permanent war emplaced with greater ease than the efforts required to marshal the needed forces during the 20th century. The sophistication and the ease by which the manipulation of human social beliefs and behaviors is now accomplished far more easily than ever before.

Upon hindsight, one might make a case that those teachers/mystics so earnest in their efforts during the 20th century managed to "buy a little time" for certain

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

higher spiritual interests involved in rectifying a reality system that had been "made wrong".

However, I would not make that case. I would only say that they did what they did, in concert with whatever “higher consciousness” they were most engaged with, and well, that was that. It was their prerogative to make such attempts.

Here I must add that there were forces working on behalf of the Dark lords (the “Asuras” as some called them) that presented themselves as spiritual teachers and mystics promoting “the light”, but who actually were promoting something of the Dark force’s own version of an internal correction. (A theme found in the “Matrix” movie series.)

Today we know more of the depth and breadth of the greater existential larger situation and it was the work of those 20th century figures that contributed to this deeper and more thoroughgoing understanding at human and at higher planes of existence. Otherwise, today, we might find ourselves going through all that they went through so many decades ago.

That is perhaps the greatest success from those various efforts by various spiritually-focused interests at effecting their own notions of “positive change” in their time. We have only to pay attention.

The passing of a large planetary-sized body in space:

Over the recent decade especially, various seers have reported a similar set of images: A large planet-sized object passing near enough to Earth to set off global catastrophes including a shift in the crustal layers relative to the inner portions of Earth structures and that this object appear very dark, almost an invisible barely dull reddish color. I am  not  including in this any consideration of the of early “Planet-X” “advocate-alarmists who relied upon alleged ET-channeling or Nibiru stories from the Z. Sitchin books.

As to the following recent post below in which humans on Earth saw a large object in space passing, it is possible that this can be taken as if literally the case as there is no indication of the perceived size of the object from the human-earthside point of view.

At the same time, if there is an ongoing “expansion-evacuation” underway to higher vibratory “layers” beyond the density of human-earthly 3d, then such dream-visions could well be “seen” from such an elevated point of view and then “downloaded” or observed at the human 3d level.

Pole Shift and Huge Planet Passing

Posted at a forum, October 2014

“Two nights ago, I dreamt that we were undergoing a pole shift caused by a huge planet passing. Everyone could see the huge planet in the sky, but few connected the dots between the passing planet and the pole shift. I knew exactly what was happening and the likely outcome. As the flooding set in, I weighed my options for survival. In my dream, it was clear that no one would survive - I was trying to decide if I wanted to go ahead and end my life quickly, or if I would hold out as long as I was able. At that point I was transported to a time just after the catastrophe. Lots of people were walking around, stunned and in disbelief. I remember being surprised at the number of people who had survived.

Last night, my boss had a flooding dream...”

Dreams and visions: Earth’s Core Shifting?

June 12, 2104

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic,105.msg6414.html#msg6414>

Note: See the “Science Appendix” to “Final Call” for related background from the world of human science. (not published yet)

In conducting a series of Internet searches, I found that many of these things are discussed only in recent research and were previously hypothesized many many decades ago by visionary scientist. It is also interesting that over the recent few years, I have noticed new advances in cosmology and physics that I predicted several years ago could be interpreted as general indicators of the larger changes in the fabric of reality as Creation would be completely altered in accord with the higher levels of cosmic “corrections energies”.

It was in June of 2014 that I had the experience of a set of sequences:

In one, there was a "science expert" guide was showing me what is to happen to the planet earth: Something like a portion of the earth's core region would shift. It looked like a portion of the core and a severe imbalance would occur.

This sets into motion a chain of events including the cracking/breaking of the crustal zone, crustal/axis shifts, and global eruptions of magma that effectively reverts the planet to primordial state (in human geological terms).

In this sequence, I was "seeing" cracks and magma coming to the surface. The magma (lava) was DISSOLVING the crustal material, returning it to a molten or semi-molten state. At the surface, a "flood of basalts" was the term I was given to understand. It was everywhere.

Near the end of the sequences, the "expert" guide referred me to research on what happens to existing crustal material when in contact with deeper liquid material from the planet.

It is also most interesting that in the last article I included a link to in my original posting at NES forums on this, the researcher predicted something like this, but did not know at the time that there was a basis for it on earth under the sea. (<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php?topic=105.msg6414#msg6414>)

In Iceland there is a 16+ km long fissure along which highly fluid magma is erupting. In Hawaii, there has been a small lava flow that has been growing in length and headed toward a small population area.)

...now what sets this off? Any one or combination thereof:

A: very large space object passing by and or impacting earth;

B: a very large solar energy burst;

C: a surface disturbance like a huge portion of the Antarctica or Greenland ice sheet suddenly coming loose –far bigger than anything to date; and/or

D: there are already processes underway now resulting in new volcanism, and bigger earthquakes occurring more frequently.

Any of these could trigger a major change in the earth’s core, in turn catalyzing additional changes.

I have long "seen" the initial cracks appearing in the Pacific sea floor, as well as submarine crustal disturbances that displace large amounts of the Pacific ocean. this could be enough to start a whole cascade of events. Similar cracks with magma flowing along them were noticed viewing crustal structures in the western region of USA.

The result is the same: Mass extinction and the clearing/cleansing of the planetary 3d materium and those entities which live off of the Light of those who entered host forms here. It is simply not possible, nor useful to think of these major earthchanges in terms of cause and effect. All bear upon one another, the result is a growing confluence of events of growing intensity and increasingly global scale.

Postscript concerning the Earth’s core:

One individual who looked at the Earth’s core reported a type of energy changeover, like switching to a new “fuel”. They reported that it would be sometime “soon” and that it would be connected with the emergence of two different realities. (This would be related to the grand bifurcation which I have discussed in recent years.) One reality is of a finer or higher vibrational state, the other more dense, feeling as if falling. (The abyssmal as I have referred to it.)

Another reported it was increasingly “unstable” in response to the influx of new energies of the “corrections” process.

Dreamtime/waking time music and song

October 7 2014

Many who attend closely to their dreamtime and waking visions hear or see music and or song. Sometimes it is something familiar personally and can be an important signal to pay attention to something –or it is not so familiar or personally meaningful but nevertheless it “shows up”. A context for this may be clear, or it may be there but not apparent.

Having been trained in classical and baroque music, I have a large repertoire of familiar music and certain of these are “used” to provide some additional quality to whatever the information is that I am experiencing. Examples would be certain movements from Mozart’s famous “Requiem”, Chopin’s “Marche Funere” movement, and the Dies Ire movement from Berlioz. Recently the theme of a popular song from earlier decades appeared in my awareness, Bob Dylan’s “Hard Rain is Gonna Fall”. And while I was preparing these notes, someone reported having the experience of “Hallelujah” which caused me to look the song up online.

As I read the lyrics and the pattern of them, the song touches upon the connection to the Higher Oneness and its poignantly noticed loss until the individuated one is again reunited with the Divine Oneness. The “fourth”, the “fifth”, the minor fall and the major lift is a very apt musicological analogy to initial ascension stages of moving past the fourth vibrational range into fifth and an awareness that “The Fall” was minor when compared to the “major lift” into the higher realms of being and Higher Oneness. Well, that is my read on it, for whatever it is worth.

The fourth, the fifth, the minor fall and the major lift
The baffled king composing Hallelujah

Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah

Well your faith was strong but you needed proof
You saw her bathing on the roof
Her beauty and the moonlight overthrew ya
She tied you to her kitchen chair
She broke your throne and she cut your hair
And from your lips she drew the Hallelujah

Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah

Well, maybe I've been here before
I've seen this room and I've walked this floor
I used to live with Leonard before I knew ya
I've seen your flag on the marble arch
But love is not a victory march
It's a cold and it's a broken Hallelujah

Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah

There was a time when you let me know
What's really going on below
But now you never show that to me do ya
But remember when I moved in you
And the holy dove was moving too
And every breath you drew was Hallelujah

Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah

And maybe there's a God above
But all I've ever learned from love
Was how to shoot somebody who outdrew ya
Well it's not a cry that you hear at night
It's not somebody who's seen the light
It's a cold and it's a broken Hallelujah

Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah
Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Halle...
It's not what you're told
It's not her face

It's not his touch
In the room you both share
Where he's gone when he loved
When your time and your memory fills your dreams
When you're honest and together
Together no more
No more
Hallelujah, until you're nothing
Hallelujah, baby, until she's everywhere
Hallelujah, until together you are somewhere I'd lost
Hallelujah, Hallelujah.

Bonne nuit, bonne nuit, I love you, I love you, We love you, Thank you

A Hard Rain Is Going to Fall...

Friday May 16, 2014 -- edited May 18

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic.1432.msg6400.html#msg6400>

Recently driving to look at a property for us to move to, Tish drove through a zone of dense rain. At the time, I was in our office area and the expression “a hard rain is going to fall” entered my awareness while I am in my usual “empty mind” doing something fairly mundane. Not long afterwards a friend from Ohio wrote me that it was flooding in parts of Ohio and that they were visiting their sister in Virginia where the river might soon overflow its banks. (It was not raining here.) After Tish returned I told her of this and then looked up the term since I vaguely remembered a song like this from decades ago. (“A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall” – 1962-63 by Bob Dylan). ...Interesting. I then recalled looking him up in the context of his personal beliefs from posts in this thread. So I am posting this here rather than “creativity” board.

I would add that I am increasingly aware of something very Huge, very Imminent, and I cannot say what it is exactly as there is a sequence to it all and its ordering does not conveniently lend itself to "human calendar time"

Follow-up to “A Hard Rain...”

May 19, 2014

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic.1432.msg6402.html#msg6402>

I would not attribute too much into any song. But there is enough in this one, to chew on nevertheless.

I had no idea of the lyrics, only a recollection that there was a song from the 60's with the thematic phrase, “a hard rain is going to fall”.

The song makes perfect sense –and right up to its ending. The extremes for the human 3d level of existence will be such that the small fraction that presently has a spark of the Light will be obliged to shake themselves into making a definitive choice. That choice has been articulated by many who have been agents of the cosmic correction to this world over thousands of years. I have written about this in various recent essays, and I have referred to a few such as de Chardin,

“Final Call” – Dreams & Visions Appendix

Essays and Compendium from May through October 2014

Aurobindo, and some others of the 20th century who considered the outcome for the extant human species, per se –and more so the viability of the human bodily vehicle for Spiritual Intelligences to inhabit. In the Concluding Four Essays and Post-Epilogue material, there is my own analysis and assessment of the state of creation and the human-spiritual situation –and discussion of various ways the “ultimate choice” with what detailed insight I was able to express in words.

This applies to all beings, from the fragmented human level to very high creation beings. And as I wrote, it applies to Creator of All as well, although slightly differently.

I have already written enough about the oceanic earth connection. The oceans are part of the fluid body of the Earth. The microscopic coral creatures and related microorganisms are very much part of the planetary body organs. This planet is a 3d material body, just like you and I have, only “bigger”. It, like all our physical bodies is in a terminal entropic, failure mode. Likewise, there is not necessarily to be any “resurrection” of this planet body.

There has been too much fixation upon 3d physical existence –not just on the part of fragmented spiritual intelligences looking out from human eyes, but also on the part of planetary scale beings that have planetary scale physical bodies. Creator beings as well as lesser beings have been too habituated or too invested in a certain course of development –and all is “under review” as to why it needs to continue as it has.

It cannot be presumed that physical environments of the 3d materium will be an ongoing functional environment in this portion of creation, and it is possible that the 3d vibrational plane will cease as well –and this may not require aeons to come to completion.

I mentioned some of this in the “Eight Worlds” comments and elsewhere. The process of Creator’s Light is to take new directions, which does not require fixation upon gross matter as has been experienced here and related worlds. Of course for some “period of time”, there will be something remaining of the 3d plane for whatever final probings and experimental learnings may be required by agents and fragments of sentient individuations of Creator’s Light.

I have nothing new to say concerning the 3d Earth and human environments. It is degenerating about as expected and in as many ways as expected.

At this point, I have no cause to be concerned over much of anything relative to 3d level of existence –anywhere. I will continue to keep some watch over various events.

Appreciate whatever you decide to appreciate of this level of existence as long as you deem it be important enough for your evolutionary return to the Light, your true Self.

Lyrics and Bio to A Hard Rain (Is Going to Fall)...

Quick bio-notes:

1962: Robert Allen Zimmerman changed his name to Bob Dylan

1979: He announced he was a born-again Christian

1981-82: Repudiated this?

1982: Pro-Israel vs Palestinian policies

Over recent decades his orientation became “ultra-orthodox” Chabad Lubavitch (a type of “Hasidicism”) which ostensibly is about “wisdom”, “understanding”, “knowledge”). Ironically, a great many adherents to “Jewishness” believe the Chabad-Lubavitch tendencies to have nothing in common with whatever it is they believe “jewish” to mean. Not much different than all the human religions that have some sideline mystery-school like element associated with them --only for the “initiated”.

It is interesting to note that this “sect” has had an historical focus on the question of whether “god” is present in the fallen realms of density –or whether “god” withdrew from its creation and all that may imply. This leads to differences within these sects as to whether “god” would even choose to remain present in any manner within a fallen creation –and that perhaps “god” “withdrew” to let it all happen in density. The teachings also includes something of a mystery school related to “tzimtzum” –an energy matrix for manifesting creation and possibly an avenue through which to “ascend” to a higher order of knowledge, etc.

As it is with all religious or spiritual sects or cults, its social-political practices either usually reflect the core spiritual distortions and superficial form becomes primary for its adherents (black hats and beards, segregation by gender, etc. a drive to convert/recruit new followers, etc., etc.).

And this is very close to the contradictory teachings of various schools of thought associated today with “gnosticism” –something that is NOT a unified body of cosmological knowledge. In some ways, the Chabad sects could be considered a type of “gnosticism”.

Above all this, is the deeper and more significant question: what “god” the the Chabad “movement” refers to? The deranged creator god of this fallen sector? ...or Creator of All? As it is with nearly all spiritual-religious tendencies, this basic problem is unknown –or deliberately obfuscated or avoided.

"A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall" 1962-1963

Oh, where have you been, my blue-eyed son?
And where have you been my darling young one?
I've stumbled on the side of twelve misty mountains
I've walked and I've crawled on six crooked highways
I've stepped in the middle of seven sad forests
I've been out in front of a dozen dead oceans
I've been ten thousand miles in the mouth of a graveyard
And it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard
It's a hard rain's a-gonna fall.

Oh, what did you see, my blue eyed son?
And what did you see, my darling young one?
I saw a newborn baby with wild wolves all around it
I saw a highway of diamonds with nobody on it
I saw a black branch with blood that kept drippin'
I saw a room full of men with their hammers a-bleedin'
I saw a white ladder all covered with water
I saw ten thousand talkers whose tongues were all broken
I saw guns and sharp swords in the hands of young children
And it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard
It's a hard rain's a-gonna fall.

And what did you hear, my blue-eyed son?
And what did you hear, my darling young one?
I heard the sound of a thunder that roared out a warnin'
I heard the roar of a wave that could drown the whole world

I heard one hundred drummers whose hands were a-blazin'
I heard ten thousand whisperin' and nobody listenin'
I heard one person starve, I heard many people laughin'
Heard the song of a poet who died in the gutter
Heard the sound of a clown who cried in the alley
And it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard
And it's a hard rain's a-gonna fall.

Oh, what did you meet my blue-eyed son ?
Who did you meet, my darling young one?
I met a young child beside a dead pony
I met a white man who walked a black dog
I met a young woman whose body was burning
I met a young girl, she gave me a rainbow
I met one man who was wounded in love
I met another man who was wounded in hatred
And it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard
And it's a hard rain's a-gonna fall.

And what'll you do now, my blue-eyed son?
And what'll you do now my darling young one?
I'm a-goin' back out 'fore the rain starts a-fallin'
I'll walk to the depths of the deepest black forest
Where the people are a many and their hands are all empty
Where the pellets of poison are flooding their waters
Where the home in the valley meets the damp dirty prison
And the executioner's face is always well hidden
Where hunger is ugly, where souls are forgotten
Where black is the color, where none is the number
And I'll tell and speak it and think it and breathe it
And reflect from the mountain so all souls can see it
And I'll stand on the ocean until I start sinkin'
But I'll know my song well before I start singing
And it's a hard, it's a hard, it's a hard, and it's a hard
It's a hard rain's a-gonna fall.
